REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

FOR PRESIDENT,
Abraham Lincoln,
OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Hannibal Hamlin,
OF MAINE.

Stephen A. Douglas.

By reference to another column, our readers perceive, that the gentleman whose name heads this article, has been nominated at Baltimore, as a Democratic candidate for President of the United States.

Judge Douglas was born in the town of Brandon, State of Vermont, on the 23d day of April, 1813, and is consequently in his 46th year. In 1831, he emigrated to Ohio, but soon went still farther west, business establishing his residence in Illinois, in 1834.

The gentleman has held a large number of public trusts since he settled in the latter State; among them may be mentioned Attorney General of the State, Register of the Land Office, Secretary of State, Judge of the Supreme Court, Member of the House of Representatives for four years, Senator for thirteen years past, with a five years longer term. He is by profession a lawyer, and is very wealthy, having been successful in some land speculations at the west.

Mr. Douglas, in politics, is well known, having been prominently before the nation for the last six years; in fact more prominently than any other member of his party, the President not even being excepted. His politics are of the Democratic school; he, in one particular only, having differed from the leaders of his party, and the majority of voters. His pet doctrine for years has been styled, "Squatter Sovereignty," and while it is so qualified by him, as to make it of not the least practical, or theoretical importance, it has been made to appear very specious, and has given him a widely extended popularity through the Northern and North-Western States. A slaveholder himself, having the interests of slavery at heart both on account of his own private interests, and also on account of his political aspirations, which can only be gratified through the aid of that power, no friend of freedom has any reason to expect "aid and comfort" from him.

We regard this nomination as the very strongest that the Democrats had in their power. Mr. Douglas, by his strong, courageous course in the Western States, has acquired a strong hold upon their good feelings, while his abstraction, of giving the people in the Territories the power to settle their own institutions, although a mere illusion, gives in the North and Eastern states, the only possible chance for a successful effort against Lincoln and Hamlin. Complete as is this illusion, entirely destitute of reality as it is, yet it will give Mr. Douglas the support of thousands of voters, who will only learn after the election that they have been cheated; that they have been used, in the proper sense of the word.

We admire Mr. Douglas' sagacity, his energy, his courage, his industry. They are qualities which, in the public estimation, go far in making up a man. They will make any one popular who possesses them; they have done much, and will do more to make this nominer the President of the United States.

We do not consider the withdrawal some States from the Convention as of any material account; for we think that the nominee of this Convention, will carry every State South of Mason and Dixon's, except, perhaps, Maryland. The South have never yet, in the history of our government, been known to vote against the slavery interest, and as voting against Judge Douglas would be a reversal of all previous practice, we do not believe that they will commence such reversal during the present election. We think that, while a portion of the commoners South, are honest in their opposition to Mr. D., they are only led on temporarily by the leaders, who in due time will change front, and then follow with them. By our dispatches, it appears that Alabama and Louisiana voted solid for the nominee. If the fire eaters of Alabama can unanimously endorse him, surely nothing else South need to hesitate. It certainly appears as though all this secession was intended for elect at the North and it will undoubtedly give many Northerners the impression, that Mr. Douglas must be of sufficient anti-slavery principles to be entitled to their votes. The card has been remarkably well played, but we believe that intelligence is destined to overcome chicanery, and political craft, and deceit.

Since the above was written, the nomination for Vice President has come to hand—Senator Benjamin Fitzpatrick of Alabama is the man selected, as a candidate for that office. This gentleman is a native of Georgia, who emigrated to Alabama in 1815, and has ever resided there, and is a lawyer by profession. He has been since 1822 in public office in all eighteen years, having been public Solicitor, Presidential Elector, Governor, Senator, President pro tem of the United States Senate, which last office he now holds.

In politics, he is of the ultra-pro-slavery, Democratic class, prepared to use all his power and talents, to further the interests of the "institution" of slavery.

The Seceders have nominated a candidate for President, the present Vice President of the United States. Hon. John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky. Mr. Breckinridge is a native of Kentucky, and with the exception of a brief residence in Burlington, Iowa, has always been a resident of his native State. During the Mexican war, he was Major of the third regiment of Kentucky Volunteers. He has since held various offices—Representative in the State Legislature, Representative in Congress for six years, and is now Vice President of the United States.

In his duties as President of the United States Senate, he has borne himself with dignity and impartiality. We have never seen nor heard the first word of complaint against him, as a presiding officer, and the notwithstanding that he is the youngest man who has held this important office. On the subject of slavery, too, it is well known that he does not sympathize with the ultra-men, and measures of the southern extremes.

Hon. Joseph Lane, nominated by the same body for Vice President, is a native of North Carolina. During the Mexican war he was among the United States volunteers, as Brig. General. Since that time he has been Governor of Oregon, Delegate in Congress from that Territory, and is now Senator from that State. His term expires in 1861.

If everybody is not satisfied with a candidate this time, it will be on account of a lack in nominations.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The Masonic Festival.

This festival took place according to announcement, yesterday. The day was, in the early part of it, cloudy with some indications of rain, but before 10 o'clock it was clear, cool, and in every respect such as was desired.

The steamer came in at their appointed time, heavily laden with brethren of the Order, their families, and others.

St. John's Encampment of Knights Templar, convened immediately in the Armory, together with the American Brass Band, from which they marched to Harmony Hall and ascended the Royal Arch Masons into line upon School Street.

The Grand Lodge met in Masonic Hall, opened, installed Most Worshipful Grand Master William Gray into office, and then passed into Halls, under escort of the Sir Knights.

The procession then took up its line of march, passing through Touro, East Town, John, Spring, Franklin, Thames and North Baptist Streets into the Second Baptist Church.

The procession made a very fine appearance.

Prominent to our "outside barbarian" eyes were the Knight Templar, on escort; with their black relieved by white, and general good marching, they drew out many warm enthusiasm; they numbered, in all, 75 men. Of the other Orders there were 270 men, making in the procession 250 men, besides the American Brass Band, which numbered 20 men.

The Sir Knights were under command of Commander James Galloway, of Providence, Commander Oliver Johnston, of Providence, being detained at home by sickness.

The Church was at an early hour, so far as opened, filled with ladies, and as soon as the procession entered, was filled in every part, and so continued until the close of the exercises.

The programme was carried through as follows:

1. Voluntary by Prof. E. A. Payne, which was very fine.

2. Grand Chorus by the Philharmonic Society.

3. Scripture was read by the Grand Chaplain, consisting of 133d Psalm, 1st Corinthians, chapter XIII.

4. A fervent prayer by Grand Chaplain, the Reverend Brother Titus.

5. Grand Duett from Opera of Sappho, composed by Verdi and arranged by Stratton.

6. The Oration by the Rev. Augustus Woodbury was very able, filled to repletion with thought, clothed in most beautiful language, and delivered in a very impressive manner. His theme was "The Form and Substance of Masonry as exhibited in its Work and Life." He held the closest attention of the large audience to the voice.

7. Doxology. In singing which, the Society introduced the German mode, all singing upon the melody.

8. Benediction by the Grand Chaplain.

After leaving the Church the procession was re-formed and proceeded to the Fillmore House, where an excellent dinner was served.

The following was intended for the programme of toasts, but, owing to the want of time, it was somewhat slipped. Charles F. Mancheson, M. D., of Pawtucket, acted as Grand Toastmaster, and Grand Master Gray presided.

The music by the American Brass Band was very fine. That by the Philharmonic Society was also good, and they were finely sustained by Mr. Payne's able efforts upon the noble organ.

The universal exclamation was that Masons in this State never sat down to a better St. John's dinner, and for years had not sat down to one near as good. The day was beautiful to its close, and all went off to satisfaction.

TOASTS.

1. The M. W. Grand Lodge of Rhode Island—Never so flourishing as on her sixtieth anniversary. Such is her vigorous constitution, that her "Gray" head is sure proof of her vitality.

Music—Washington's March. This was happily responded to by Deputy Grand Master Ariel Ballou, M. D., of Woonsocket.

2. The State of Rhode Island—Masonry teaches obedience to government, and obedience to law, and respects best where liberty is found. The Masons of Rhode Island honor their State as the first to proclaim Liberty its truest signification.

Music—Old Bristol. An excellent letter from Gor Sprague was written to a response.

3. The City of Newport.—She has given us many worthy sons, whom their brethren and fellow citizens have delighted to honor.

In war, as well as in the pursuits of peace, art, letters and religion her sons have shone lustre on her name; and among the many names she has given to the rolls of Fame, we take pleasure in contemplating that of Cranston.

Music—Shells of Ocean. It was expected that Mayor Cranston would respond, but he was absent in Washington.

4. Our Patron Saints—the two Saint John—Their lives and characters are exemplified in the ethics of Free Masonry, and are expressed in the Divine precepts, love to God and love to man.

Music—America. Responded to by J. Revere Grand Chaplain Titus.

5. The Subordinate Lodges.—The good seed sown by St. John's Lodge of more than a century since, has taken root, and the fruit thereof is gathered to-day from every part of the globe.

Music—Yankee Doodle. Responded to by Am Hildreth, Master of St. John's Lodge, of Newport.

6. The Oracle of the Day.—His words of wisdom, so beautifully expressed, will strengthen us in our work and labor of love. May we never be so attentive to form as to forget the substance of our glorious art.

Music—Departed Days.

7. Woman, the brightest ornament of all our festive scenes,—as a mother, sister, wife or daughter, she is never forgotten in the world of Masonry.

Music—Come hither to the Wedding. Responded to by Grand Secretary Doyce.

8. The Press.—Wherever there will be enlightened Masons, there will be found the most light in Masonry.

Responded to by Mr. Danielson, of the Press.

Music—In the Eye, there lies the Heart.

Responded to by Danielson, Esq., of the Providence Evening Press.

HUSTLED OUT.—As the Masonic procession was passing along Thames Street yesterday on its way to the church, the Grand Marshal seized upon one of its number and very unmercifully flogged him out. As this was one of the things omitted in the programme, we looked expecting to find him "without the wedding garment;" but he was duly apnored, and as "all right" in that respect. We don't know what was for, nor how the felt about it; but most say may be so used, would have had a faint suspicion that he was not wanted there.

MACKINTOSH STRAWBERRIES.—We are again under obligations to Hon. W. J. Swinnerton, for a box of superb strawberries, the largest of which measured four and a quarter inches.

THE STRAWBERRY EXHIBITION.—There was a strawberry exhibition during Saturday, at Mr. BENJAMIN BATZMAN'S Market, where they attracted much attention. Mr. B., my understand, has made an arrangement with the Ex-Mayor, by which he will be enabled to supply his customers with fruit from the latter's extraordinary vines.

SAD EVENT.—On Wednesday last, Mr. Benj. G. Fletcher of Kittery, aged 45 years, was drowned by falling from his boat. He had just arrived from an eastern voyage.

In sight of his home at Kittery Point, he took the vessel's boat to visit home. His wife had come out to meet him, and her eyes were upon him when he fell from the boat and was seen no more. She rushed into the water up to her neck to rescue him, but it was of no avail.—Portsmouth Journal.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

S. W. Parks, of Des Moines, Iowa, succeeded Miss Elizabeth Campbell, and on being arrested the Justice discharged him, because, he said, the crime was barred by the statute of limitations. Parks was then produced by the police.

The Artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has already reached the unprecedented depth of twenty-four hundred feet, or nearly half a mile. It is the deepest well in the world; but as yet discharges no water, nor exhibits any signs of it.

An Irish waiter once complimented a saloon in the following manner: "Faith, it's not two hours since that f--- was walking around his estate, w--- his bands in his pockets, never dreamin' what a pretty invitation he'd have to jine you gentlemen at dinner."

It is a significant fact that, since the day of their arrival, the Japanese ambassadors have resolutely refused to take part in any of the expeditions upon which they have been invited. They and their subordinates, and remain in comparative safety at home.

While allowing that a treaty of friendship, i.e., and simple, can exist between a man and a woman—under peculiar circumstances even between a young man and a young woman—it must be allowed that the experiment is difficult, of even dangerous; so dangerous that the matter-of-fact half of the world will not believe it at all!—Miss Muloch.

A Georgia paper gives an exulting, triumphant account of the manufacture of the first broom in the State—that is the first broom entirely the product of the "enterprise" of the State. It thinks the idea of going to Connecticut for brooms impudent, and glories in the idea that the home-made can be bought "nearly a heap as the imported."

COFFEE, TEA AND SUGAR.—Three little items of family expense amount to a vast sum every year. The United States Treasury Department reports that, for the year 1859, the imports of these three articles amounted to the following sum—Tea, $7,500,000; coffee, $25,000,000; sugar, 30,000,000. The importation of molasses is valued at $500,000.

A German child in the town of Ashford, had been very ill with scarlet fever. On Sunday last, says the Cattaraugus Republican, the child seemed to die, and on Monday preparations were made for its burial. Monday afternoon the funeral was held; and the body of the child, accompanied by a large number of friends, was conveyed to the grave. As the dirge began to fall upon the coffin, a sob, or cry was heard, and a shriek of "Mother!" burst from the lips of the resuscitated child. The child is in a fair way to recover.

The Western papers have narrated several curious freaks of the late tornado of a marvellous character, and we suppose that more are to come. Here is one of the incidents said to have happened at Camanche, Iowa: A barn contained on its first floor 200 bushels of corn, and 160 bushels of oats. The tornado struck the building, tore its upper parts to pieces, scattering the timbers in all directions, and swept out the floor upon which rested the grain—doing it so suddenly as to let the grain drop in the cellar, where it was afterwards found uninjured, and scarcely a bushel of it missing. Not a remnant could be found.
